Cabinet Leaders in Paris to Confer With Premier Lloyd George Regarding Measures To Be Taken.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Attention of the British people is fixed on the near East, where recent Boishevik successes have carried the red Russian armies almost up to the threshold of India. Persia, Mesopotamia and Astatic Turkey, Cabinet members and chiefs of the British army and navy are today in Paris, whither they were hastly summoned yesterday and are conferring with Premier Lioyd George on military and naval matters in connection, it is believed, with conditions in Southwestern Asia.

While there is a possibility the Bolaheviki may launch an overwhelming attack against Poland, the statement issued yesterday showed the granient preoccupation of officialidom was over the deback of Denkine's armies and the rapid advance of the soviet forces toward the Persian and Afghan frontiers.

Further to the southwest the soviet forces have passed Akmolinsk and are believed to have moved southward and eastward toward the frontier of Chinese Turkestan. The capture of Bokhara, less than 200 miles from the Afghan border, was announced from Moscow a week ago and it was said Krasnedovsk, on the eastern shore of the Caspian sea, was firmly in the hands of the red forces. Thus from the Venisel river to the Caspian, a distance of more than 2.200 miles the Boisheviki seem to be quite firmly established. From this line it would appear they might be able to essay incursions toward China to the southeast, or Afghanistan and India to the south Persia lies south of the Caspian sea and Bolshevik agents are said to be active there.

Odessa is virtually hemmed in by the reds, who have moved southward until they have drawn their lines across the base of the Crimean peninsula from Nikopol to Melitipol.

Thinly velied threats to resort to methods of terrorism should the Boishevik be opposed by the entente are ceived here from Moscow. It is said capital punishment will be inflicted upon enemies of the soviet government only when sentences are approved by the Nall-Russian extraordinary commis-

Older pupils were put in charge of the younger. Small salaries caused the teacher shortage, the superintendent of schools said.

Thousands craned their necks to see the funeral cortege, led by the John Barleycorn funeral special giant Curtiss biplane, sall over the city scattering the ashes of the late lamented in the form of propaganda which has been used by the Antisaleon league in the fight against the liquor traffic.

In the funeral special were John Goldstrom, of the Southern Publicity association, and Robb Oertel, pilot of the Augusta Aircraft corporation. In the second plane were O. B. Keeler of the Southern Enterprises, Inc., and Capt. W. C. Lambert, pilot, formerly of the Royal Air force of Carada, as official palbearers and chief mourners. In the third plane, piloted by Bob Shank, was a moving picture operator, who took views of the start of the funeral procession, including Unite Sam pouring a bottle of booze through a huge funnel.

Following the funeral procession, Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, publicity director of the prohibition enforcement campaign, flew over the city scattering campaign literature. Wilbur Simmons posed as uncle Sam during the airplane funeral, and earlier in the day rode through the city on the official water wagon, on the sides of which were signs reading. ico. Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania.

Asting Secretary of State Frank L. Polk proclaimed the amendment as part of the constitution under date of Jan. 29, 1918, but it goes into effect one year from the date of ratification by the safet state. As that fook place on Jan. 16, 1919, the amendment is operative, according to the hurran of internal revenue, at midnight of tonight. To enforce constitutional prohibition, congress enacted a bill so drastic that a man can be fined or put in jail for even displaying a picture of a brewery or a keg. Right to store liquor in one sown home for personal use stood up, however, negalisel vigorous attacks in both senate and house.

Alcoholic beverages still may be produced for medicinal and sacramental uses, and alcohol will continue to be made for scientific and industrial purposes, but many safeguards are provided that the law shall not be violated. The home manufacture and consumption of nonintexicating eider and fruit juces is permitted by law. Places where intoxicating liquors are sold can be declared a nulsance and abated as such, and the persons guilty of maintaining them are punishable under the criminal sections of the enforcement law. Punishments for violations of the law vary, according to the mature of the violation and whether it is a first or subsequent offense, the penalties running as high as $2,000 fine and two years imprisonment. Advertising of liquors by any means or method is prohibited.

Search for contraband liquor is permitted under warrants, except that private dwellings may not be searched unless used for lilegal sale or in part for business purposes. Seized whisky be a coincidence also that nothing was done when congress reconvened in December, but it is a fact that not a single one of the noted "dry" leaders of the senate has been conspicuous in the overtures for comprouise which have been going on for the last few months, until the last two weeks, when it became apparent that reservations included in the treaty would not possibly be agreed upon before Jan. 18. "Dry" senators on both the Republican and Democratic side say it is absurd to connect the delay on the peace treaty with any thought on their part of a continuously dry nation in the interim before Jan. 16.

Some of them have told me they never have even heard the wet and dry fight mentioned in treaty conference. But certain "wet" senators are sublimely confident that there could have been a compromise on the peace treaty ratification much earlier if it had not been for the fear that the president would immediately lift the prohibition ban.

So far as the record goes, the votes cast on the night the treaty failed of a two-thirds vote in the last session show wets and dry on both sides. Senator Owen, Democrat, for instance, who is a dry, believed so strongly in compromise that he even voted for the Lodgo reservations. On the other hand, in the Republican ranks not a dry vote was cast for the compromise except that of Senator McCumber.

But it is in connection with the lack of activity behind the scenes, not in the voting last November, that the charge is made that the "drys" on both the Democratic and Republican side might have shown themselves as interested in compromise six weeks ago as they are today.

Senators Hitchcock and Underwood, who have been prime movers in the compromise business, are "wets," and it is pointed out Senator Kendrick, Democrat, of Wyoming, who is a dry, has suddenly gotten active in the last fortnight supposedly on behalf of William Jannings Bryan in endeavoring to bring about a compromise.

lowed by his message of a few days ago urging compromise and ratification by Jan. 16, which is the date the prohibition amendment goes into effect.

It is true that the first meeting of the council of the league occurs on Jan. 16, but the Hnited States could not, of course, attend that meeting even if the senate acted, because the actual process of exchanging ratifications would take at least two or three weeks. Therefore it has been contended by "wets" that Mr. Bryan plainly gave the game away when he set Jan. 16 as the date for the putting into effect of a comoromise on the treaty. Why they ask, was he silent between Nov. 27 and Jan. 8?

It will always be difficult to say what were the forces delaying the ratification of peace by the United States. The precirastination has been variously attributed to party politics, to alien elements in our population and to the prohibition confroversy. This much is true. President Wilson would have lifted the war-time prohibition but the moment the treaty had been ratified. "Wets" and "drys" have known that for some time. Whether prohibition has the moment the treaty had been ratified when and "drys" have known that for some time. Whether prohibition has the moment the treaty had been ratified of the war-time prohibition has the moment in combining the prometries and my line generally can draw their own conclusions, but with constitutional prohibition shut with constitutional prohibition shut with constitutional prohibition effective on Friday of this week there no lower remains any "wet" and "dry" for delay in compromise. By a process of elimination, delay can hereafter be attributed only to party politics, or the influence of allen elements in the body politic. Copyright, 1920, by David Lawrence.)
